

[DRAFT PLACEHOLDER] Chair-side: Recognising Common Scalp Concerns

Marketing: replace this stub with the final stylist referral / script one-pager. Do not treat this as clinical copy.

At the chair

- ? Lead with what you can see, not a diagnosis.
- ? Ask: "I've noticed a change here - have you noticed anything?"
- ? If it is red, spreading, or painful, pause chemical services and guide towards professional assessment.

Quick visual language (stub)

- ? Dry white flakes, little redness: describe flakes; suggest a measured over-the-counter conversation.
- ? Greasy yellow scale on a red base: describe inflammation; pharmacist or GP if it persists.
- ? Thick silvery plaques with sharp borders: be gentle; GP or trichologist for management.
- ? Redness that follows product placement: stop the likely product; document; patch-test later services.

Referral script (stub)

"I can see some change on the scalp that I would rather a specialist look at with you. I am not diagnosing - I just want you to get a clear answer. I can note what I have observed today if that helps your GP or trichologist."

Do not say

- ? "You have psoriasis / dermatitis / alopecia."
- ? "This treatment will fix it."
- ? "You must see a doctor immediately" unless there is acute distress or an urgent red-flag presentation your salon protocol already covers.
